

Pamela Insixiengmay
Graphic Designer & Instructor
(408)693-7163
pamelamaay@gmail.com

As a visual designer who passionately tells stories, my curiosity for human solutions drives me to design with a purpose, aiming for social change that enriches communities and embraces diverse cultures.

EXPERIENCE

Pamela May Designs

Bay Area, August 2020—Present

Collaborate closely with clients to understand their specific needs and objectives, translating their ideas into aesthetically pleasing visuals. Carefully select typography, color schemes, and layout designs to ensure that each project effectively communicates its intended message. Meeting deadlines and managing multiple projects simultaneously while taking pride in delivering high-quality work that exceeds client expectations.

Art Teacher

Oakland, CA Sept. 2022—Present

Fostering high level arts, creation, and performance to instill positive social change within young artists in marginalized areas. Responsible for creating a semester long curriculum while guiding classes of 5-10+ students in order to provide experiences that develop their identities within culture, self, and the arts. Responsible for facilitating and teaching lessons for screenprint, fashion design, drawing, and painting.

Self Employed, Nanny/Mother's Assistant

Bay Area, August 2016—Present

Administering one-on-one care and meets the physical, emotional, social, and intellectual needs of the children. Duties include communicating with the parent alongside the children to coordinate on-time pick-ups or programs and balancing the care of children while completing other tasks such as household chores or errands.

pamelamay.design

EDUCATION

San Jose State University

San Jose, 2020—2022

Bachelors of Arts in Design Studies

Mission College

Santa Clara, 2016—2020

Associate of Science in Graphic Design

SKILLS

Leadership
Communications
Visual Art
Graphic Design

AWARDS & ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Designing Work Worth Doing Gallery, San Jose State University

December 2022

"Best Presentation" in the Big Ad-Challenge

November 2019

Won "Best Presentation" in the 2019 Big Ad Challenge by Silicon Valley Business Journal